BY JOHN H. BUYERS.

The Alpine Singers and Yodlers will appear at the Rock River Assembly this evening at 8 o'clock and will present a full program.
The yodel, the characteristic Swiss song which is native to the Alps, and which will be featured in the program this evening, is said to date back to the early days when the forebears of the present Swiss people fought for preservation among their beloved mountains, being assailed on all sides by the Touthon, the Roman and the Gaul.

This is one of the best companies on the chautauqua circuit and those who attend this evening's entertainment will be highly pleased and very happily entertained.

Jubilee Singers Coming.

The Buckner's Jubilee Singers will appear at the Assembly Wednesday afternoon and on Thursday evening. These "black folk" will give a full concert.

Wednesday evening William H. Britigan, Chicago real estate man, known in his business as the "Billy" Sunday in real estate, will lecture, his subject being "The Heart of Chicago."

Parker Made Hit.

Pitt Parker, a clever cartoonist, entertained a large crowd last night with his cartoons, crayon pictures and clay. Parker's line of talk went well with his audience, and he has plenty of good material in that line. He possesses humor and he lets go of just enough to keep his auditors in good humor while he produces his cartoons and pictures. Each cartoon carries with it a lesson, in fact his whole entertainment was filled with good lessons. "Seeing things," was his subject.

Dixon's Symphony Orchestra gave a musical prelude to Parker's program which pleased the audience to a high degree. This splendid organization will render a full program one evening before the close of the session.

In a lecture delivered at the Assembly Monday afternoon, Rev. S. P. Long of Chicago, declared that all the gold in the world was "God's Gold," and during his address he gave his auditors something to carry home with them in the way of thought and good common sense advice. Preachers, and there were many in the audience—were benefited by Long's lecture. It was noticed that several of them—prominent ones, too—were jotting down "nuggets" drop from the lips of the speaker.

Gold Everywhere.

Dr. Long believes that there is gold everywhere if man has brains and sense sufficient to find it and dig it. Big fortunes were made by men and there is just as much chance now to make big fortunes as there was fifty years ago. But you need brains to make them. Get closer to earth and find the gold. That was the principal thought all through the lecture. But, Dr. Long declared, you cannot get very far in the gold digging proposition if you have not the fear of God in your heart. There should be more love for fellow men; more respect for law and order; more respect for church and the people of the church.

Dr. Long gave ice cream socials, usually gotten up by the church to pay a debt or the interest on money owed, a hard punch. "Do away with anything that will cause those who have no love for God to come and give of their money to help pay a church debt. Get your money by (Continued on Page 5.)

MOLINE SCENE OF DARING BANK ROBBERY TODAY

Barber Shot by Bank Robbers—Bandits Made Getaway

By Associated Press Leased Wire. Moline, Ill., Aug. 3.—Six armed thugs, unmasked, entered the Commercial Savings Bank here at 11 this forenoon, backed two tellers into a vault and all others in cashier's office, swept $20,000 into sacks, and made their escape in a large Cadillac car.

They shot Charles Mohler, a barber when he ran out of his shop across the street to give the alarm and Mohler may die. Police arrived as the bandits were leaving and a gun battle ensued on the streets, the men finally making their escape. They headed into Rock Island.

Rock Island, Ill., Aug. 3.—Before the Rock Island police had been notified of the bank robbery in Moline, the bandits dashed through Rock Island heading in the direction of Galesburg on the Knoxville road.

When the Rock Island police station received warning from Moline that the bandits were headed for Rock Island, a squad of officers in an automobile was rushed to Sears, a suburb south of the city, arriving there just in time to see the robbers' car speeding away in the distance, on the Knoxville road. The officers' car dashed on pursuing the bandit car, which he hit, leading in the direction of Galesburg.

Lee Center on Top in Twelve Innings

The Lee Center base ball team played a great uphill game Sunday afternoon after the Sterling Indians had taken the lead, and pulled the contest out of the fire in the twelfth inning. Score, 7 to 5. Adams for Sterling held Lee Center at his mercy for five innings while the Indians were getting to Beane with too frequent results. But the Lee county boys kept plugging away, with victory as their final reward.

FUGITIVE MOONSHINER AND WIFE CAUGHT IN EAST PART OF CITY

Mr. and Mrs. Mike Fino, Wanted by Sheriff, Caught Monday

A complaint arising from an odoriferous pig pen led to the capture of Mike and Sophia Fino, alleged fugitive moonshiners, late yesterday afternoon after a chase of some length by Chief Van Bibber and Officer Seagren in the east end of the city. The police were requested to investigate an offensive pig pen on Noble avenue, near the east city limits about 4 o'clock yesterday afternoon and the chief and Officer Seagren answered the call.

When the patrol drew up in front of the residence in the rear of which the pig pen was located, the officers' attention was attracted to a man and woman who suddenly jumped up from their seats at the side of the house and ran to the rear of the lot, the woman scaling a high wire fence to be followed soon by the man to whom she was shouting in a foreign tongue. They ran through a thicket and were soon out of sight.

Said to Own Still.

The officers recognized the couple as Mr. and Mrs. Fino, who were said to have owned the still and mash seized by Sheriff Schoenholz and his deputies about two weeks ago in the basement of the cement hotel. The police transacted their errand and returned to the station, where they met Sheriff Schoenholz and learned from him that the couple were wanted. Later they returned to the vicinity and leaving the patrol near the old stone quarry, discovered Sam Fino, brother of the wanted man, watching their movements. The police started up through the heavily wooded ravine on the left hand side of the road and beneath a heavy bush found Fino and his wife, who believed they were hidden completely.

They were brought to town and taken before their legal advisor, Attorney Albert Hannekan. Justice Geo. W. Hill was called in and charges of manufacturing intoxicating liquor in prohibition territory was preferred against each of them. Both waived examination and were held to the grand jury under bonds of $300 each which was furnished by John Loftus.

It is said immediately following the raid of the cement hotel and capture of the still and mash, that the couple left this vicinity by the "crow line." They are believed to have returned to Sterling and thence to Dixon a few days ago, stopping with friends in the east end of the city where they planned to keep out of sight of the officials.

Freeport Man's Car Plunged Into Eight Foot Ditch; Not Hurt

J. F. Fenton, of Freeport, had a narrow escape from being seriously injured or probably instantly killed this morning about 6 o'clock north of Dixon on the Polo road. He was driving to Dixon on his way to Chicago and was accompanied by A. M. Smith, also of Freeport, who was in another car. They were driving at a rapid rate of speed and were coming down the steep grade at Plum Hollow onto the bridge which spans the deep ditch when Mr. Fenton's car swerved suddenly and plunged down the embankment, a distance of about eight feet without overturning. The rim of one of the wheels was broken, but the machine was soon pulled back onto the road and came to Dixon under its own power. Mr. Fenton purchased another wheel here and proceeded on his way to Chicago, escaping without a scratch.

BRIGGS DEPICTS DAYS IN DIXON IN CARTOONS OF CHILDHOOD SPORTS

Collection of His Cartoons at Dixon Public Library

Through the courtesy of Clare A. Briggs, famous cartoonist, in response to a request from officials of the Dixon Public Library, a collection of his original cartoons will be placed on exhibition at the Library tomorrow and will remain there for several days. Dixon people will find more than usual interest in the cartoons for their creator formerly lived in this city.

In acknowledging the request for the cartoons, Mr. Briggs wrote Miss Wynn, librarian, as follows from Meddybemps, Maine, where he is spending his vacation:

"I am a long way from my 'base of supplies' and I expect to be here in the Maine camp all summer, but I am writing my assistant in New York to select a representative number of drawings and express to you. I'm sorry that it is not so I can make this selection myself but am sure there will be a sufficient number at least."

"I feel very proud that you want the drawings for the purpose you name. Only wish the quality of my work was of higher standard. However the points in many of my pictures of childhood days are based upon my boyhood in and around Dixon. My real boyhood period, which is the period I have aimed to depict, from 9 to 15 years, were the years I lived in Dixon."

"I sincerely trust the little exhibitions may be of some interest to your patrons. There are still many in Dixon who may recall that I played and dreamed there. Many thanks for your invitation."

Tells of Drowning of Gallagher Boy

The following from the Fulton news in the Clinton Advertiser tells of the drowning of Lauren Gallagher, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Gallagher formerly of Dixon:

A deplorable accident occurred here about 3 o'clock Friday afternoon when Lauren Gallagher, 12 year old son of Mr. and Mrs. John Gallagher was drowned in the Mississippi river off the pier used as a landing by boats in low water stage. Lauren with two companions, James Fitzgerald and Marvin Thompson were playing tag in the water. Just about that time the airplane flew low over the city and in watching the airplane at the same time running from the boys, young Gallagher ran far out into deeper water than he realized. It is thought he stepped off into deep water and before assistance could reach him he was drowned. Lauren was a bright and jolly little fellow and was employed as a newspaper carrier boy. Up to last evening the body had not been found although searching parties arrived on the scene immediately. He is survived by his parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Gallagher two sisters, Dorothy and Bessie, and two brothers, Howard and Thomas, besides a large number of school companions who will miss Lauren greatly.

RED HORDES BUT SIXTY MILES FROM WARSAW AS ARMISTICE MOVE FAILS

Americans Leave Warsaw on Advice of U. S. Officials

BULLETIN

By Associated Press Leased Wire. London, Aug. 3.—The Russians occupied Brest-Litovsk, Aug. 1. It is announced in Monday's official statement from Moscow, received today. Further progress of the soviet troops toward Warsaw on the road from Bialystok is reported in the communication.

By Associated Press Leased Wire. London, Aug. 3.—Negotiations for an armistice between Poland and Soviet Russia have been delayed according to a wireless dispatch received from Moscow. It says the Polish delegation left Baranovitch for Warsaw Wednesday to present to its government the Soviet demands that the Polish delegates be given mandates for signing, not only an armistice agreement but also a protocol setting forth fundamental conditions of peace. "Without this," the message declares, "it will be impossible to conclude an armistice."

The Polish delegation was empowered merely to arrange for a halting of hostilities. The Soviet delegates proposed that another meeting of the armistice commission be held at Minsk August 4, the dispatch says.

Brest-Litovsk is Taken; Warsaw Next?

Warsaw, Aug. 3.—(By Associated Press) Brest-Litovsk, the last great fortress guarding Warsaw from the east, has apparently fallen before a tremendous assault by the Bolsheviks. North of that place Soviet forces have smashed their way forward in their drive westward to a point only 60 miles of this city.

Over a front of 120 miles Polish armies are being pounded to pieces before the rush of Bolshevik hordes which are being hurled into the battle in a desperate attempt to capture Warsaw before the conclusion of the armistice conference at Kobryn. Reinforcements are everywhere being hurried to the front by the Russians to complete the defeat of the Poles before hostilities are halted.

Americans Warned to Evacuate Warsaw

Warsaw, Aug. 2.—(By Associated Press) News of the progress of the armistice negotiations between Polish and Russian Bolshevik representatives was awaited impatiently by Warsaw today. In the meantime, reports from the front were not as encouraging as they had been for several days, and many foreigners continued to prepare to leave the city in the event of its imminent capture by the Soviet armies.

Word was passed around among Americans here, upon advice from Washington that those desiring to remain in Warsaw, should it appear that the Bolsheviks would take the capital, would do so at their own risk. It was said the American authorities would request their passports.

It was said the indications were that few if any Americans would remain, although some naturalized citizens might desire to stay in Warsaw.

Women and Children Leave

Applications for passports visas by persons wishing to leave Warsaw have more than doubled at the American consulate since the beginning of the Soviet offensive which now is hammering at the gates of Poland. Today it was stated that upwards of 3,000 visas are passed each week. Most of the applicants are women and children who have friends in America. Crowds jammed the streets near the consulate on Sunday.

As a war measure, the military authorities have prohibited the sale of alcoholic beverages, with the exception of beer in the Warsaw district. Music in cafes has been prohibited, and many musicians, actors and artists have gone to the front.

Meanwhile, at various distances to the north, northwest and east of the Visula, in a great semi-circle, the work of building trenches and erecting barbed wire defenses is being carried on with great haste.

Julian Mankievsky is chairman of the newly formed body, adds the dispatch. The new Soviet has issued a mani-

IN BEAR'S GRASP

BY ASSOCIATED PRESS

All advices today indicate that the situation in Poland from the Polish-Alled standpoint is near a crisis.

The Polish delegation to Baranovitch failed to obtain terms and was sent back to Warsaw by the Soviet authorities who demanded that the emsaries obtain a mandate to take up peace negotiations. This will delay even the beginning of the negotiations until tomorrow, at the earliest.

Meanwhile the resistance of the Polish army, which apparently had been stiffening has given way under the tremendous pressure of the Bolshevik armies. Warsaw, from which the Russians now are only 60 miles distant, seems critically menaced, if not doomed to capture. Americans remaining there have received official intimation that they stay at their own risk.

Coincident with the serious military developments comes an announcement from Moscow that a Soviet government has been set up in the portions of Poland which the Bolsheviks have overrun.

COAL OUTPUT TO BE NEAR NORMAL BY END OF WEEK

Expect Nearly All the Miners Back at Work by Tomorrow

By Associated Press Leased Wire. Springfield, Ill., Aug. 3.—Almost normal forces of miners worked the mines in central Illinois today, giving promise of a return to full production by Thursday. Commenting on the news report that some locals in southern Illinois have voted to stay on strike, Vice President Harry Fishwick of the miners' union said such action on the part of some miners always follows a strike. They will return, he predicted, before the end of the week.

By Associated Press Leased Wire. Belleville, Ill., Aug. 3.—With approximately 25 per cent of the striking miners already back at work, according to reports received here, and others announcing their intention of returning no later than tomorrow, conditions in the southern Illinois field today were showing an improvement.

Operators estimated that about 30,000 tons of coal could be mined daily by the forces now at work. The action of miners in several sections, who have voted to remain out is expected to delay a complete adjustment of the situation.

Oats were governed by the assistance of other grain, starting 1/4 cents to 3/4 cents higher, September 69 1/2 to 70 cents and remaining firm.

to Pay Off Claims

By Associated Press Leased Wire
Boston, Aug. 3.—The line of anxious note holders in the "50 per cent, ninety days" investment proposition of Charles Ponzi, who claims to have made millions by foreign exchange deals, began to form outside the offices of his Securities Exchange company, long before daylight today clamoring for the return of their money.

Ponzi again asserted that his business was solvent and that he was prepared to meet all demands. He estimated that he had paid out about $3,500,000 since the run began. He asserted that he would "have millions left" after meeting all obligations and that he was still considering the offer of a New York banker whom he did not name, to buy his business.

Edwin L. Pride, the auditor appointed to investigate Ponzi's accounts, said it would require several more days to complete work on the books.

Boston, Aug. 2.—The Securities Exchange Company, headed by Charles Ponzi, whose alleged operations in foreign exchange are being investigated by United States officials, continued today the payment of notes to those investors who resented their claims. The line of claimants awaiting attention was a long one today again. Ponzi's prompt return of funds toward the end of the week, greatly diminished the number of claimants, but there was evidence today of a sudden renewal of the demand to cash the notes he had issued.

"I have twice as much money as will be needed," said Ponzi to meet any obligations that may be presented to me."

Start Investigation
Into Aviator's Death

By Associated Press Leased Wire
Los Angeles, Calif., Aug. 3.—An investigation was started today by the coroner's office of the deaths of Lieutenant Omer Locklear and Lieutenant Milton Elliott, aviators, whose airplane last night crashed to the ground in the Hollywood section without having righted from a tail spin started at a height of 1,000 feet.

The tragedy came during an exhibition for a motion picture production. Spectators said Locklear at a height of 200 feet but failed and that the machine burst into flames at the same time. They said it appeared to them the plane was ignited by a rocket.

Five searchlights played upon the airplane as it started into the spin, and Lieutenant Locklear, the pilot dropped a rocket which he followed with the nose of the machine. Both aviators were dead when motion picture employees reached them a few seconds after they struck the ground. The lieutenants were in the United States aviation service during the war and for a time were stationed together at Fort Worth, Texas. They took up commercial flying after the war, Locklear going in for "stunts". He was said to be the first aviator to leap from one machine to another in the air. He was born 27 years ago at Como, Texas, and leaves a widow residing at Fort Worth. Lieutenant Elliott was 24, a native of Gadsden, Ala.

By Associated Press Leased Wire
Fort Worth, Texas, Aug. 3.—Ormer Locklear, stunt aviator who was killed in Los Angeles last night, made his first flight on the high school campus here four years ago, piloting a plane that his brother had made. Before the war Locklear was an automobile mechanic. Enlisting in the air service, he was given a pilot's commission in a few weeks at Barron Field, Fort Worth.

"Just One" Gets Results Every Time

Only Laxatives That Keep on Giving Satisfaction and "Never Wear Out."

The same identical result from the same dose, now or after years of use, is what you get from "Just One" that no other laxative can offer.

"Just One" cannot wear out or get your system accustomed to it, as other laxatives always do. You don't change from "Just One" to something else, because you are already changing with every dose of "Just One" you take. Twenty tablets, alike in appearance, but each a different laxative and acting upon different organs or sets of organs, in each box of "Just One." You cannot take the same kind twice from the same box, so you cannot get your system accustomed to and unresponsive to these tablets. That's why "Just One" never wears out.

Keeps your whole system active and un congested instead of pounding upon one organ all the time. This is the ideal, the modern, the scientific way. You'll want "Just One," of course. Any drugist anywhere can get "Just One" for you or we will send it post-paid upon receipt of 25c per box. Ferritone Chemical Co., Council Bluffs, Iowa.

If you have never used a small, stiff hand brush to clean your white shoes you will find this little brush 100 per cent efficient.

I buy a very stiff, long and narrow brush at the five and ten-cent store. Before applying the shoe cleaner a good brushing of the shoes with this brush removes all the old cleaner and very often some of the dirt.

The stiffer the brush the better, for it takes quite strong bristles to clean between the shoe top and the sole.

These cheap little brushes do just as good work as a more expensive regular shoe brush.

Menu for Tomorrow.

Breakfast.—Berries with uncooked cereal and top milk, cinnamon toast, coffee.

Luncheon.—Ham balls, spinach salad, toasted muffins, tea.

Dinner.—Breast of lamb and green peas, baked potatoes, pineapple salad, coconut cream pie, coffee.

My Own Recipes.

The breast of lamb is never quite as high in price as the other cuts. The meat is apt to be rather stringy and needs long and slow cooking. It is an excellent cut to cook in a fireless cooker.

HAM BALLS.

2 cups mashed potatoes.
1/2 cup finely chopped ham,
1 tablespoon minced parsley,
1/2 teaspoon pepper.
Salt (dependent on the ham).
2 eggs.

Mix potato, ham and seasoning. Beat whites and yolks of eggs separately. Add yolks of eggs to first mixture. Fold in whites beaten very stiff. Shape into balls and fry in a frying-pan.

BREAST OF LAMB.

1 1/2 pounds breast of lamb,
1/2 pound bacon,
2 pounds green peas.

CHANGE IN PRICE

Constant increases in the cost of manufacturing, handling and distribution of ice compels us to make an advance to our present prices.

The extremely cool weather prevailing has reduced our volume of business considerably thereby increasing our unit cost per pound of ice handled. In addition, labor has advanced 50 per cent. Coal, ammonia, salt, oils, gasoline, tires, truck repairs, pipe and fittings, machinery repairs and other items entering into the manufacturing, handling and delivery of ice have increased in range from 40 to 100 per cent while the cost of ice has remained stationary. We have absorbed as much of this added increase in operating expense as is consistent with the safe and sound conduct of our business, and are now compelled, much to our regret, to pass a portion of it on to the consumer. Therefore, effective at once our rates will advance 10 cents per hundred pounds on all ice sold and our drivers have been instructed accordingly.

EXPERIMENT STATIONS

Human life is very complex. Few problems in it can be settled by mere good intentions or mere reasoning without a large amount of experiment. It is sometimes embarrassing to find 48 different kinds of state law within the confines of a single country. But what an opportunity it gives for working at a problem from many different angles!

Ohio makes adultery a penitentiary offense; North Dakota gives equal rights to illegitimate children, and in each case good people say, good; let the other states do likewise! It might be better to say, let us see how such laws work.

Laws of his sort are not made for the good people who keep out of scrapes; but for the bad, the weak, the thoughtless and impulsive that get into them. And the problem is:
How will such laws work amongst such people? Will a penitentiary sentence for adultery keep weak people from committing it, or will it drive them to desperate deeds to cover up their sins? Will it preserve a home in safety, or will it only complete a wreck and ruin the children by driving sinful husbands or wives to divorce and remarriage? Or will the law, perhaps, remain a dead letter, enforced only against the poor, or for blackmail? Ohio's experience ought to show.

So with the other law. Will legal recognition of a man's illegitimate child work only good, or will it carry with it a recognition of the other as a kind of wife, and so encourage concubinage? North Dakota can find out.

And if each law works out well on the whole some third state may experiment with the two together, and find out whether it is possible to make a man support a child if both parents have to go to the penitentiary for admitting that it is his.

One can only tell by trying; and 48 experiment stations are better than one.

THE SUNFLOWER

The sunflower is no orchid. It is coarse. But it is homely and cheerful. Things which are homely and cheerful are best worth while. This smiling sentinel of the backyard fence corner does not fascinate like an orchid. It is not wrapped in its own beauty like a rose. It is a friend!
America produced the sunflower.
Champlain found the Indians growing it four centuries ago when he explored the country of the Great Lakes.
They used oil from its seeds to mix war paint. He took the sunflower to Europe. From there it was distributed throughout the world. Italy, Turkey, India, Russia, China, South America.

Russia has been growing a million acres of sunflowers annually for oil, fodder, fuel. They munch the seeds like we munch peanuts. From Russia the sunflower, grown to mammoth size, has been brought back to the United States.

Experiments are being made with it here and in Canada. It is planted in rows, like corn. Five thousand acres of sunflowers were grown here in 1919.

CANNED CAMPAIGNS

"Canned oratory" which has been making some headway in American politics during the last couple of years, is to be tried on a big scale this year. The Republican candidates for president and vice president have inaugurated the movement with carefully prepared speeches intended for wide distribution. Other Republican spellbinders will follow, and the Democratic orators may be expected to pursue the same policy. Apparent-

BRINGING UP FATHER.

ly speaking "for the records" is to be as much a part of a candidate's duty, now and hereafter, as posing for the films.

The plan has many merits, from the standpoint of publicity. By this means campaign speakers enormously extend their range of operations.
There are advantages, too, to the public. Small communities remote from the cities to which big campaigners generally confine their attention will be able to hear the speeches of the leading men of both parties. With a good phonograph and a judicious selection of records, there will be a rare evening's entertainment in many a rural schoolhouse or town hall. And there may be a certain merit even in the personal absence of the speakers. Lacking the charm of visible presence and gesture, the hearers may be able to appraise the arguments more accurately.
They may be less influenced by mere personality, and may thus come to demand more logic and solid content than are usually provided in a political address.

There is one phase of the matter, though, that must be viewed with regret. Phonographs, alas, are only too ubiquitous and when they are all equipped with campaign records, how can anybody, even in the most secluded vacation spot, hope to get a rest from politics?

NOT YET

The biggest story in history has "not broken" yet, to use journalistic parlance. Revolutions, world wars and other big events will seem small when the "big news" comes.
The story in question is that which will flash around this old earth when finally communication comes with another planet, whether it be Mars or Venus, as they are called by Earth-folk.

Think what will happen, even outside the tremendous story of the first dispatches! Magazines will take another trend. Novelists will cease to use their fancy and will base their themes on fact. Motion picture plots will contain little else than that. Our whole literature will change.

This will not come of course, until either our code is deciphered, or their code is worked by us. But that will happen as surely as codes were so romantically untangled by the master Poe.

The surest way of governing, both in a private family and a kingdom, is for a husband and a prince sometimes to drop their prerogatives.—T.
Hughes.

And the breezes blew out through a

The sinner is saved, though the preacher be lost;
A heifer is bossy, yet often is bossed;
It's one for the kernels and one for

(The nuts will fall in November.)
The candidate stepped on the end of his trail.

For there's often a wind where there isn't a sail,

The breath that the nation spent

Escapes every year through the Cap-itol's dome;
Be it ever so White House, there's no place like home;

Now this is the moral and end of my song.
(The nuts will fall in November.)
A laugh is too short and a sigh is too long.
(The nuts will fall in November.)
A pocket is useful, except in a shroud,
O, why should the spirit of mortal be proud;
One candidate's company, two are a crowd;
(The nuts will fall in November.)

The Twins Make A Visit
When Tingaling, the fairy landlord, failed to appear, Nancy and Nick decided that he had gone home without them. Of course they couldn't imagine why, unless it was because he was so comfortable in Oliver Oriole's nightgown that he had forgotten everything else. Tingaling was wearing Oliver's nightgown, you know, while his own clothes were getting let out.
But just then Munchie Mouse burst in, completely tucked out, running up the stairs so fast. "H-h-hurry!" he gasped. "Mr. Tingaling has gone home!"

He wasn't expecting callers, so he peeped out cautiously.

Owl's garbage can, and I am afraid something will happen to him. If Mr. Owl is hungry, dear knows what he'll do."
"But what can we do?" asked Nancy anxiously.
"I'm sure I don't know," panted Munchie. "You'll just have to go and see. I can't go with you, because I'm very busy downstairs today." But everybody knew that if Oscar Owl had lived downstairs, Mun-chie's work would have kept him about ten stories high.
So Oliver Oriole and the twins climb ed at once to the next floor in Maple-Tree Flats, where Oscar lived, and knocked gently. They thought it best to find out first if Tingaling was really there, before planning his rescue.
When the knock came Oscar jumped in surprise. He wasn't expecting callers and he wondered who in the world it could be, so he peeped out cautiously.
"How-do-you-do?" said Nick boldly.

rounds of the bathing beach and we shall see what we shall see. Have a look!"
As we enter, that place on the right (the one with the white-washed windows) is where the gallant and the fair don bathing suits. (That's why the windows are painted.) Folks who have no automobile with side curtains could not go bathing in the sea were it not for the bathing bus. "Oh, Justine, when expelled by a copper from the shady nook behind your chestnut tree, make this thy dressing place." That, fair customers, is the cry of the bath dwelling.

Just ahead of you will note the beach itself. Those wild things running around haphazard, are bathers.
They have just come out of the be-hatted bath house. And by "be-hatted" it is meant that when all the rooms are occupied, the swimming suit clerk hands you a wash basket to deposit your citizens' clothes in. That's when you are directed to a corner instead of a private room, to dress in.

You will please note the fellow with

Just to the left of him there is a

FOR THE CHILDREN.
As the people come to realize that play and recreation contribute enormously to the promotion of health, the demand for proper playgrounds is everywhere becoming greater. It is clear that our boys and girls must have some place to play. Shall we be content to let them play in the streets, or on the railroad track? In tenement homes in our large cities shall we let them fly kites from the roofs?

Popular sentiment is becoming crystallized and the people are demanding that the community make some provision for the safety of the boys and girls during their leisure hours. Most of our cities are now appropriating funds each year for the establishment and maintenance of supervised public playgrounds and recreation centers. This sentiment is spreading rapidly and it is hoped that in the not far distant future every community will have an organization to provide play and recreation facilities for all its people.

The people of this city, like those of other cities throughout the country, have grave responsibilities in this providing for play and recreation. Let us hope that they will rise to this opportunity, and that they will be en-thusiased by the vision of good they can do. They will see sickness reduced, crime prevented, the sum total of human happiness enormously increased, and a great step forward taken to promote the nation's strength and welfare.

ANSWERED.

Q.—Can you tell me if there is any drug or medicine known that can be used to loosen one's teeth so they can be pulled out with the fingers?
I should have mine out to regain my health, and have had one or two extracted, but this process has upset my nerves so I cannot bear the thought of a dentist's chair. I have taken gas on two occasions, and the experience I had put the finish on my whole nervous system.

A.—So far as I know there is no drug which could safely be used in the way you suggest, so that the teeth could be pulled out with the fingers. The extraction of teeth under local anesthesia, especially according to the newer methods of administering this anesthesia, the so-called nerve block method, has been so well developed that competent dentists now make really painless extractions, without any shock to the nervous system. It is suggested that you discuss this matter with your dentist, and perhaps have him refer you to some extraction specialist.

Q.—A young lady friend is much concerned over the growth of hair on her upper lip and side of her face.
Can you tell me what to do? Is pumice stone a good remedy?

A.—The growth of hair on the face of a young woman always presents a very difficult problem, especially when the growth is at all profuse.
To remove the visible growth by means of pumice is practically the same as to remove it by shaving or by means of chemicals and so-called depila-tores. None of those methods remove the growth permanently. Permanent removal can be effected only by measures which destroy the root of the hair. Such destruction can be effected only by the individual treatment of each hair root. Skilled dermatologists can do this by means of an electric needle, the so-called electrolytic method. The procedure is rather painful, requires considerable time, because only a few hairs, say 10 to 20, can usually be dealt with at one sitting, and the operation must be entrusted only to an experienced operator. It is suggested that your friend discuss the matter with her family physician, and have him refer her to an experienced dermatologist.

THE BOOK OF ANN
We Begin the Task of Assimilating
Our New Sister-In-Law

As a mother-in-law, perhaps Mrs.
James D. Lorimer was unique. She refused absolutely to make any suggestions to Jim's wife. Consequently that young woman believed that she "had put it over" the older woman in her best style. Chrys and I longed to shake some sense into Ann's pretty head. But the most we could hope was that we could keep her from spitting up our family.

"Jane, I guess it is up to you and me to tell that child a few important things," So Chrys decided. "We'll have to initiate her."
"That's easy. She will take to the house and the autos and the frocks all right. But can we assimilate Ann—just as the nation is supposed to assimilate an immigrant?" I walked. "Will she assume her share of responsibility for the standards of the Lorimers? Will she become a credit and an asset? Before people get married, they ought to consider such points. Or will she embarrass Jim outrageously after a while?"

Assimilating Ann wasn't a big adventure considered as drama, but it was a worrisome undertaking for us girls, just the same.
"First thing of all, Ann must learn how to treat her elders," said Chrys.
"She can jolly daddy—without instruction," I remarked.
"You know what I mean. Her manners to mother are simply sad!" said Chrys. "The test of a well-bred girl is her attitude toward an old woman. I suppose you've noticed that Ann never rises when mother enters the room? She never sees that she is occupying mother's favorite chair. She keeps right on reading her novel when mother is speaking.
And she says really rude things to all of us, though I suppose she means them to be merely 'cute.' The business world did that for her. But what went with 'the boys' will not go here.
'Cutie' will never fit into our house."
"We will have to modify her clothes as well as her pertness," I suggested.
"Neither you nor I cares to be seen with the giddy togs she dons for the street. They look like samples designed for show windows. And she —like a mannequin advertising a new fashion for a wholesale house."

Bob heard this. He broke in with:
"You must admit that Ann is easy to look at!"
So there I had it, straight from the shoulder!
I turned to Chrys.
"We might as well not start to help Ann. What we girls think isn't important. The men of this family are pleased with her. That's enough.
She'll get along all right!"
"No, my dear. For Jim's sake, you and I have got to see that she gets on with the right people. Our men-all the men we know may approve of her as she is, but they can't make her a social success. The matrons send out the cards, you know, and you and I are not going to let them take Ann up on our account. She must fit in on her own."

"Oh la la! Such a beginning as she has made!" said I. "She came into the reception room yesterday chewing gum. Yes, my dear! Chewing gum!"

freewill offering from the members of the church and not by offering for sale little dishes of mighty poor ice cream," declared the noted divine.

On the whole Dr. Long's sermon-lecture was one of the best that has been delivered here for sometime. Dr. Long has been here before and it is to be regretted that his audience was not larger. People very often miss the best of the program because they wait for some big attraction—some much advertised man—and pass up the men who give them a great deal for the money expended. Dr. Long always pleases when he appears.

Dr. Long will be here for several days and he will appear again on the program. He will address the school for religious workers.

School Is Interesting.

Much interest is manifested in the School for Religious Workers. Meetings are held at stated intervals in Chautauqua Hall and Bible Hall. Rev. C. H. B. Lewis, Emerson, Neb., who has specialized on and is an enthusiast in Sunday school work, will have charge of special portions of the program. Rev. Lewis delivered several addresses Monday forenoon that held the attention of nearly one hundred persons. He is very frank, painfully so sometimes, in his discussion of the Sunday school work and the early training of the child with reference to religion. He attributes the scarcity of ministers to the fact that the child is not taught early enough in life that he should become a minister.

Talks About the Boys.

Dr. C. E. Derr, of Chicago, the well known platform director, and one of the most popular ministers at the Assembly, has something to say about "That Boy of Yours." Monday morning he read a splendid address on that subject and he was listened to by a "crowded house." The services were held in the Bible Hall. Dr. Derr has a son and he is well acquainted with his subject. His address was very interesting and very entertaining as well. His auditors were fathers and mothers—old and young—and the majority of them are the proud possessors of boys, and those who have the pleasure of bringing up a boy or several boys, can and do appreciate the addresses of Dr. Derr. Dr. Derr will have something good to say nearly every forenoon of this week.

Other Prominent Workers.

Dr. S. S. Waltz, well known to the Assembly patrons and especially to those who are actively engaged in religious work, will deliver lectures or addresses several of the days this week. His lectures are always interesting and instructive.

Then there is Dr. E. F. Krauss, another well known worker, who has something to say that will interest the persons who are active in religious work.

Dr. S. P. Long, of Chicago, is here again and his friends are legion. Dr. Long talks to the preachers present, but many of those who are engaged in the ministry, listen to him and are deeply impressed with his instructive talks.

This school is one of the big and strong features of the Assembly and goes well with the chautauqua end of the season's program. It is expected that each day will find the audiences growing.

Tomorrow several very interesting and important subjects will be handled. The subject of "Teaching" is discussed very ably by Rev. T. B. Uher.

Among the Campers.

It was "blue Monday" with the Assembly camper as well as with others who remain at home. Monday at the park is exceedingly quiet, especially in and about the tents. Those of the men who do not care to attend the schools, go over town and visit. The mothers of the camps, do their marketing and many their week's washing—for a Sunday furnishes baskets of soiled linen—and the youngsters are usually left to "run wild" about the park. Early morning hours find the bathing beach pretty well patronized, and this week will find the beach filled until late in the night.

William McGinnis is looking after "Uncle Sam's" mail at the Assembly. Sometimes, especially around the mail hours, William is kept pretty busy.

George Brooks and his estimable family are here again from their farm home in Hamilton township. George spends a large portion of his time discussing politics. The Brooks tent is quite popular and Sunday usually finds a large number of visitors present.

George Reedy, of Mt. Carroll, the old reliable, is with us. As usual he brought his whole family, grandson as well. George arrived Sunday morning in a large truck, filled full with bag and baggage.

Adam Krape arrived from Lena yesterday morning and is nicely and comfortably located at the "old stand."

There are many new faces among the campers this summer and until we get better acquainted, we will not have much to say about them.

We have with us this year again our friends from Lonsant, Wenona and Tonica. Mrs. Kregor, of Lonsant, came early and with her, came Mrs. Hiltabrand and children, of Tonica; Mr. and Mrs. John Garvin and daughter, of Wenona. Mrs. Hiltabrand has with her as her guests, Miss Marie Stafford, of Tonica, and Miss Marie Guerrito Boswell and Walter Boswell, of Joy, Ill. Miss Ruby Kregor, of Lonsant, will arrive next week and remain until the close of the Assembly.

Mr. and Mrs. O. F. Frede and daughter are here from Wenona. This is the first "attempt" for the Frede family.

Landlord Mackley and Mrs. Mackley deserve considerable praise for the manner in which they are conducting the Assembly hotel this year. There is plenty of good food to eat and the rates are within reach of all. The hotel is in good condition and business is good, but it is expected to be much better before the close of the session.

R. B. Anderson and wife, of Sterling and Mr. and Mrs. A. C. Swanson, of Manlius, are guests at the Assembly hotel.

OWENS, LLOYD, ALL THE REST, FOUND GUILTY

Members Communist Labor Party Sen- tenced to Prison

By Associated Press Leased Wire
Chicago, Aug. 3.—William Bross Lloyd and nineteen other members of the Communist Labor party were today under sentence to imprisonment in jail and penitentiary for from one to five years, having been found guilty of sedition. Lloyd and two members were under fine of $2,000 and two under $1,000, in addition to their prison terms.

Among other sentences were:
L. K. England, Moline, Ill., member Communist Labor party state executive committee, 1 to 5 years in the penitentiary.

Dr. Oscar Jesse Brown, DeKalb, Ill., one year in jail.

Edgar Owens, Moline, Ill., 1 to 5 years in the penitentiary.

Perry Shipman, Rock Island, Ill., one year in jail.

A motion for a new trial was granted and the hearing set for September 25. A plea by Assistant State's Attorney Marvin Barnhart that the convicted men who had been out on bond be taken in custody was denied. Their bonds were held sufficient by the court.

The conviction of Owens, the Moline leader, is of particular interest in Dixon inasmuch as he gained considerable notoriety in this city through attempts to speak despite orders from Mayor Smith. He was finally arrested and tried, found guilty and his case is now in the Circuit Court on appeal.

Holding Gasoline Prices Down

"The Federal Trade Commission in report to Congress ascribes strong demand as primary cause of recent advances in price of gasoline and other petroleum products, rather than any combination in restraint of trade." (Boston News Bureau, June 3rd, 1920.)

Gasoline prices will go down as soon as gasoline supply exceeds demand.

Only two ways are known to increase gasoline supply. First, increase the production of crude petroleum; second, to increase the yield of gasoline from the crude petroleum obtainable.

Recognizing the latter as the more practical method, the Standard Oil Company (Indiana) has discovered, through extensive research, a way to definitely increase the yield of gasoline from crude oil.

In its laboratories, modern to the last detail of equipment, chemists, engineers and experienced refiners are working continually to this end.

It was one of these men who discovered the process which has largely increased the yield of gasoline obtainable from the crude.

This, and other discoveries, together with the economies of efficiency throughout all processes of refining, have enabled the Standard Oil Company (Indiana) to exert a marked downward pressure on gasoline prices.

The Standard Oil Company (Indiana) strives at all times to deal in fairness to all the people within its territory, and today is operating its business on as small a margin of profit as is consistent with sound financing, and with safety for its 4799 stockholders, of whom no single investor owns as much as 10 per cent of the total stock.

CAR CONDITIONS IN KANSAS IMPROVED; WHEAT BEING MOVED

However There are Not Yet Enough to Move all of Crop

Topeka, Kans., Aug. 3.—An increase in the number of cars made available for the shipment of wheat to market is affording some relief to Kansas farmers in the problem of marketing their grain, according to state officials and bankers interested in the wheat movement.

Although there are not yet enough cars to move all the wheat, and many cars promised by the interstate commerce commission have not arrived, and railroad officials are unable to give any definite assurance as to when they will arrive, the car shortage is not so desperate now as it has been in past years.

Officials of the state board of agriculture estimate that there are still stored on Kansas farms 22,000,000 bushels of last year's wheat crop, and an additional 8,000,000 bushels of last year's wheat crop in Kansas elevators. A perceptible movement of this "hold-over crop" is now reported by the State Board of Agriculture.

There remains, however, the vastly greater problem of moving this year's wheat crop, variously estimated at 110,000,000 to 135,000,000 bushels to the great milling and export centers. Bankers are vitally concerned in the wheat movement problem. Ac-

According to J. R. Anspaugh, secretary of the Kansas State Bankers' Association, bankers have $65,000,000 tied up in loans on crops which await marketing. Many of these loans are long over-due, and the prospects are that the amount involved in crop loans will easily reach $100,000,000 with the ripening of the present wheat crop.

Some relief has been obtained, Mr. Anspaugh said, from the recent announcement of the Federal Reserve board that it favored extension of crop loans, and the fact that Federal Reserve banks had been authorized to accept wheat paper from member banks or from other banks through correspondents.

Railroad officials have warned the farmers of their inability to move the new wheat crop promptly and urged them to make arrangements to hold it on the farms properly stacked or in bins.

The indications are that grain will be held on farms this year on account of railroad congestion and uncertainty of prices.
